

BAR LENTO · 158 8TH AVENUE, NEW YORK

Welcome to the Bar Lento app

Your shifts, your hours, your documents — in one place, on your phone.

This app was designed and built entirely by Simone Viola, owner of Bar Lento, for the team: to make work easier, to keep everything in one place and to make sure nothing gets lost — for the team and for each of you personally.

Here you find the weekly schedule, who is working today, whether the bar is open, closed or hosting a private event, your clock-ins and hours, your weekly report, and every document you sign — all tracked, all yours to check whenever you want.

IMPORTANT: WHAT THIS APP IS NOT

It does not replace Toast. Clock-ins and clock-outs are still done on the Toast terminal with your own account, and pay is handled through payroll as always. The app only shows you what has been recorded, so that you and Bar Lento always look at the same numbers.

ONE CHANNEL FOR EVERYTHING

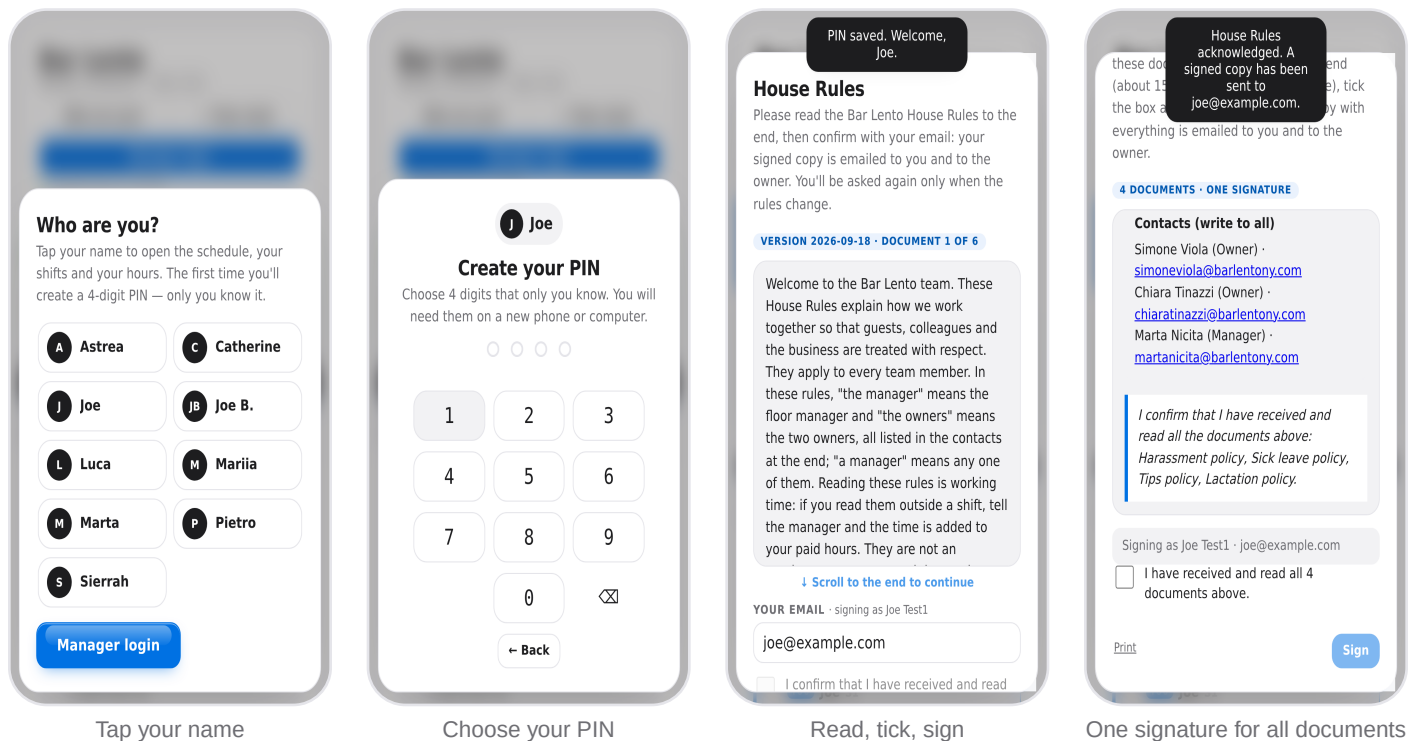

Schedules, changes, closures, events, reports, documents: everything arrives here (and by email), not in scattered chats. WhatsApp is for talking; the app is where things stay on record.

bar-lento.vercel.app

Open the link on your phone and add it to your Home Screen (Safari: Share, then Add to Home Screen; Chrome: menu, then Add to Home screen). It works like an app.

1. Your first time: three taps

- Tap your name. You are already there: the list comes from Toast.
- Choose a 4-digit PIN. Only you know it. You will need it on a new phone or computer; the one you use is remembered.
- Read the House Rules and the documents New York law asks every employer to give you (section 5 explains each one). Your email is already filled in, the same one you use in Toast: tick the box, tap Sign, done. Your signed copies arrive by email.

USE YOUR TOAST EMAIL, ALWAYS

The email in the app is the one Bar Lento has in Toast. Please keep it the same everywhere. If you ever change it in Toast, the app follows automatically; still, tell Simone so nothing gets lost.

2. The home screen, top to bottom

- Your name (top left): you are signed in. Tap it to open My week.
- Time clock: who is on the clock right now and on past days, live from Toast. Green dot = somebody is clocked in.
- Notify me: turn on notifications. You get one when a new week is published and one summary when something that concerns you changes. Never spam, never at night.
- Hi ... / Next shift: your next shift at a glance, with the buttons My week and My stats.

- Today: Open now or Closed now with the hours, who is working today, and the reason when the bar is closed (a holiday, a private event, a half day).
- This week / Archive: the week tabs. Archive shows past weeks; they are kept and never change.
- The days: every shift of the week with name, station and times. Yours carry the YOU tag.
- Tap your shift, then Confirm shift: it tells the manager you have seen it. Only you can confirm your own shifts.
- Copy as text (bottom): the week as plain text, handy to paste anywhere.

Home: today and the week

Tap your shift, then Confirm shift

3. My week: your shifts, your hours

- Three tiles: hours scheduled, hours worked so far (from your Toast clock-ins) and the difference.
- One row per shift: scheduled times, station, and under it your real clock-in and clock-out with the hours. Tap a row to confirm it.
- < >: move to the previous or next week.
- Documents: the House Rules and every policy you signed, with the date (section 5).
- My stats: your own numbers only — hours, punctuality, streaks. Nobody sees anybody else's.
- Week report: downloads a PDF of the week shown: every clock-in and clock-out with the exact times, hours per day, weekly total. Times and hours only, nothing about pay. The same PDF arrives by email every Sunday night, automatically.

- Switch: on a shared phone, go back to the name list and let a colleague sign in. Log out: forget this phone.

My week

My stats: only yours

Documents: everything you signed

SAME NUMBERS ON BOTH SIDES

Your Week report and the record the owners see are built from the same clock-ins. If a time or an hour does not look right, say so right away: records are checked together, never rewritten.

4. Once in a while

- Week in review: after a week of work you get a short recap of your week — for you only, always encouraging.
- New week: when the manager publishes the schedule, the app shows it once and sends the notification.
- New version of a document: when a policy changes, the app asks you to read and sign the new version once. Every January the State training video is asked again (free, 30 minutes, nothing to hand in).
- New phone: open the link, tap your name, enter your PIN. Forgot it? The manager can reset it from Staff.

7. Good to know

- Records that the law requires (schedules, hours, signed policies) are kept as long as the law requires, also after someone leaves.
- Questions about the app, your hours or a document: ask the manager or an owner.
